

Artist Biography

Stuart Johnson

Painting is something I started late in my life. I managed major hotels from Hawaii to New York City for thirty years before buying the Allison House Inn in Quincy, FL. Painting helps me relax and I enjoy being creative. I have painted several scenes from our trip to Italy and France a couple of years ago. I look forward to the challenges of watercolor painting. I have taken a number of classes from some excellent watercolor instructors and have learn a great deal doing so.

I am an active member of the Tallahassee Watercolor Society serving as membership Chairman for five years and co-chair for the Tri-State Watercolor Society Exhibition for two years.
