Celebrating the American Dream

Michele Tabor Kimbrough is the founder/owner of The Art Factory Gallery in historic downtown Marianna, FL. Michele's imagery is created from her own photography through all her travels. Much of her work is a reflection of her southern community and our American Life. As a former Army helicopter, airplane and airline pilot, Michele also likes sharing her love of aviation in her art. Michele paints in watercolor, acrylics, and oils which she has developed her artistic skills through many workshops by master artists. Michele maintains memberships with many art societies, art centers and museums. Being a member of these organizations provides a platform for professional development.
