

Janice “Ecinja” McCaskill

Janice “Ecinja” McCaskill is one of the most progressive contemporary artists today.

Her colorful paintings are both reflective of environment, culture and family and ancestral storytelling. Ecinja’s colorful stories, cultural background, and life experiences have greatly influenced her work. Using paint, vivid characters and powerful colors, she encourages the viewer to dream and create their own stories from the paintings before them. As an alternative to the general title of artist, Ecinja prefers the term “colourist”, which reflects her mystical command of the color spectrum in her works. Ecinja paintings display the “colorful” lives of each character in every stroke of paint, allowing the viewer to breathe life into the painting with their own imagination and life experiences.