

Cheryl Sattler

Bio

It was love at first fuse when Cheryl Sattler began working with glass intensely in 1999. After a 4-year hiatus from glasswork to earn a law degree she is delighted to be back making glass. She is fascinated by Florida's flora and fauna and the way each interacts with light, shifting movement and color. She freely mixes glass techniques to express these ideas. She can be found in her 2500 square foot studio in Quincy, Florida, dreaming up new ideas, playing catch with Mabel the dachshund and trying to convince the cats to stay inside. Her web site is www.CherylSattler.com and she can be reached at CherylSattler@yahoo.com
